Sym,

Any friend of Suk's is an acquaintance of mine. Since you live real near Rick maybe I'll see you this summer. Good luck to you and Mike.
Have fun your next two years of school. I hope you and Mike will always be as happy as Rick and I are.

Man is a verb:
A state of action,
A state of being,
Creative in his extensions.

Good Luck,
Suk

He envisions and sustains
A unique consciousness
Composing in undimensioned vaults.

Concept validates itself:

A thought forms, motivating excitement.

Excitation seeks the empirical divorce

Of element;

Lynn,
I have really enjoyed being a T.A. for your class this past year. I wish you the best of luck always!
I will see you next fall and I hope you have a great summer!

Within, the spirit of living and
The enactment of these moments
Subdued and reborn.

Reacting, reaching,
Man, at times, is nearly overcome by the Universe
Whose expanses leave him breathless
Yet unexhausted.

[illegible][illegible]

In that reach lie his knowledge and doubts:
He flies with insufficient wings;
His creations press against Horizon's rim.
Falling into the abyss of discovery.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a signature or a note, located in the bottom left corner of the image. The text is partially obscured by the person's hand and is difficult to read due to the blurriness of the image.

Within the turbulence of his being,
Within his sky and flight,
Lie his understanding and clear sight,
An awareness to which his commitment
Must and will be made.
Within this commitment speeds
All the rapid action of his life.

Commitment bids action,
Unable to alter cycling day, afternoon or night
The will, the action, the creative We Advance the wind
In wingless Victory.

Jim,
Well, it's finally over, and summer
is coming up fast,
I hope you have a great one (even though I know you will). Don't forget Mrs. Hinkle and all the "fun" we had.
I'll see you next year!
Liked such!

Overview Of Learning

The administration, flanked by parents, faculty, and students has stalked mammoth problems in 1968. Learning to trust, taking the time to listen, combining similar interests to reach the great goals of Learning—this has been the challenge. Despite whatever turmoil or anxious moments, the four factions have produced a commonwealth of experience and knowledge.

If you believe in great things you may help others believe in great things . . .

A Synopsis Of The Counselor

Guiding, mapping out four years, expressing a personal interest in each numerically catalogued student—a synopsis of the counselor, the one link that connects high school with the college and vocational world beyond. Providing relevant, up to date information and also understanding is the double challenge of the counselor. Helping to develop each to his highest potential and helping to compensate for weaknesses that interfere with this development — it is systematic and demanding; it is also rewarding.

Facets Of Our Language

Comprehension comes first - of this book, this play, this poem - a composite of our language. A building together into passages, passages into a complete coherence - a thought examined by this verb, this noun - the usage of our language. This four year sequence of English provides a continuity - the facts, natures, customs learned before can be reapplied. The genres of literature are studied in the tenth grade, and this information is brought to bear in the eleventh and twelfth grades, when an exclusive emphasis is placed on all elements of first American, then English literature. The other aspects of English merely become more complex and intellectually demanding as the years progress. Seeking to develop the composition, writing is encouraged with both discipline and creativity. By developing relationships and discrimination, comprehension is achieved.

Overview Of Centuries

Here is a catalog of man's knowledge - 17,-000 volumes of man's achievements - of all his ideas. Here one can read into the mind of man and see the progression of humanity. Here is an overview of the centuries - representing every type of either impartiality or prejudice. Here one has the opportunity to read, examine, and learn.

This is an enthralling place that establishes its separate entity - a place for the growing mind to become absorbed - to form a relationship with all the past and present - to sensibly structure the form of tomorrow.

A Trend In Learning

Flexible scheduling gives the opportunity to use these specialized resource centers. Each year students become better oriented to this type of study and use the research materials to their own advantage - a trend in student discipline - student maturity. Auxiliary personnel, imported from the P.T.A. for the English and Social Studies centers, achieve a double effect. They serve as aides necessary to keep the centers open all day - they provide valuable public relations service between the school and the community. Students receive an unstructured center-freedom in the math resource center. Uniquely run entirely by students, this center also provides tutorial help in math. The more these resource centers are used, the more they command the interest and respect of the student body.

Unstructured, Flexible

The Problems,

Society: The Questions,

Always there are questions to be asked, answered, realized to comprehend the unchanging elements which bind the centuries together. "Culture at the crossroads," part of the freshman curriculum, provides an in depth study of the complexities of human relations. Progressing along the sequence are U.S. History, Modern Problems, and numerous electives which enable research on challenging aspects of our civilization. These courses provide a basis for understanding the problems of freedom and restriction, the individual and society, poverty and affluence, and war and peace which confront us. We can only attempt to answer what we have asked.

Aspects Of Civilization

The first aspect of civilization is the development of the mind. The mind is the most important part of the human body. It is the source of all our thoughts and actions. The mind is also the source of our emotions and feelings. The mind is the most powerful organ in the human body. It is the source of all our knowledge and wisdom. The mind is the most important part of the human body. It is the source of all our thoughts and actions. The mind is also the source of our emotions and feelings. The mind is the most powerful organ in the human body. It is the source of all our knowledge and wisdom.

Foreign Familiarity

A struggle to break the language barrier—students stretch hands across the sea for comprehension of a foreign language, involvement with a foreign culture. Familiarity is developed through conditioned responses-mastery is attained through the manipulation of these responses. Application of the growing knowledge of vocabulary and grammar, of the growing awareness of foreign thought - this achieves an appreciation for the living language.

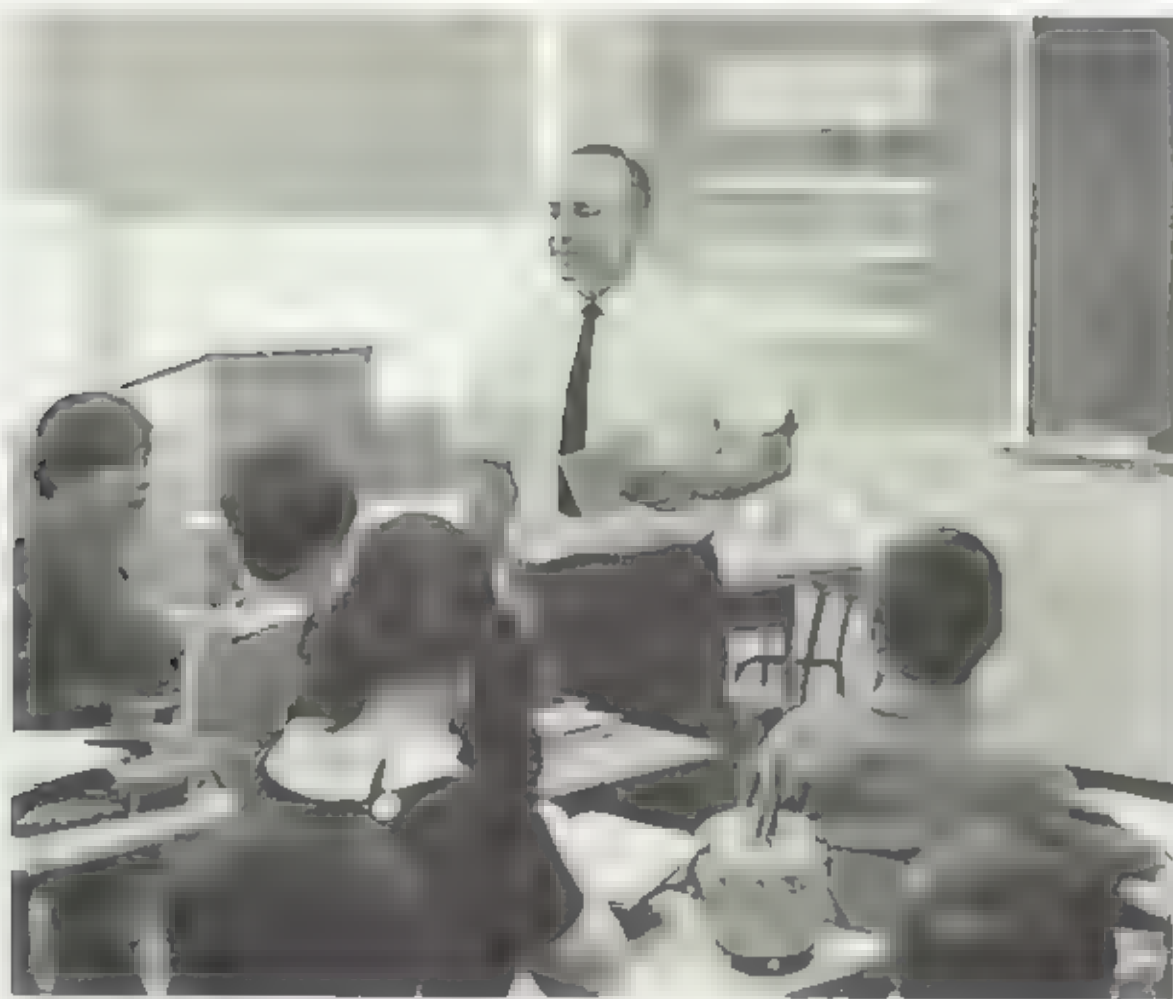

Essence Of Mathematics

With the problem, there is an answer which can be found—found to describe the situation or resolve the difficulty. For this, mathematics is the method and the tool—the channel which links Pythagoras with Newton; link with the past, bridge to the future. The concrete relationships which man has discovered, the intricate associations the future will reveal lie within the open field of mathematics. This field provides endless permutations for opportunity with its limits in that field—in that cosmos—of the geometric configurations of the universe. It is a mathematician's dream and so it will be and has been—for centuries.

The Genius of Creative Logic

An idea becomes a concept—the concept is explored—data is compiled. From this information a new concept evolves. Science is not disjointed fact but rather a flowing, rhythmic pattern of creative genius and logical knowledge. Man's ambition provides the driving pulse—his imagination gives rise to ideas—his intellect forms the pattern of results.

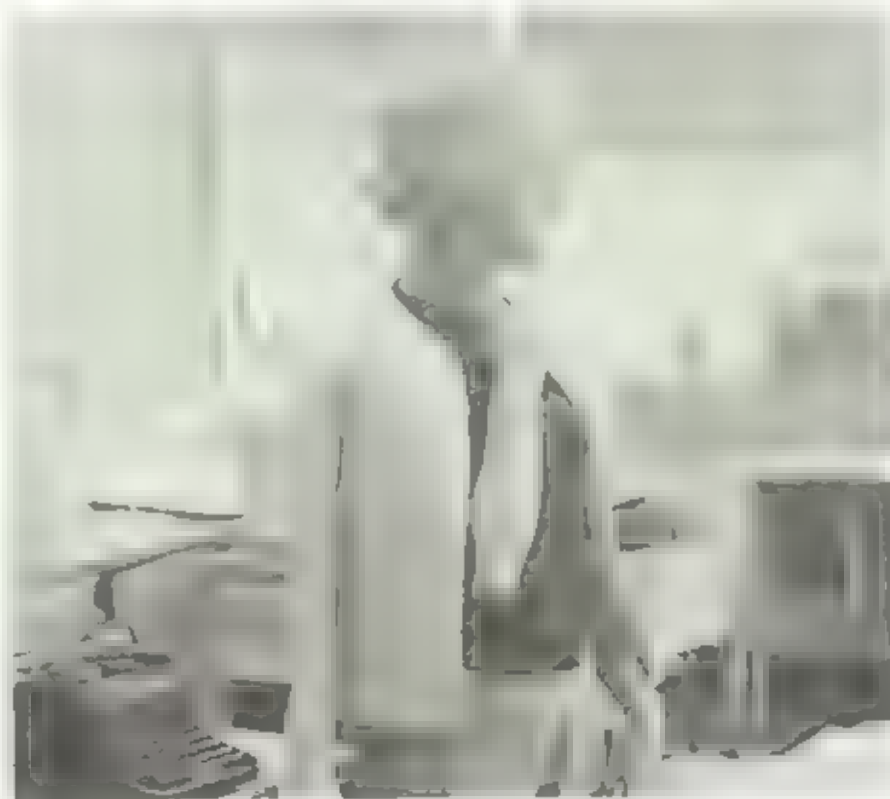

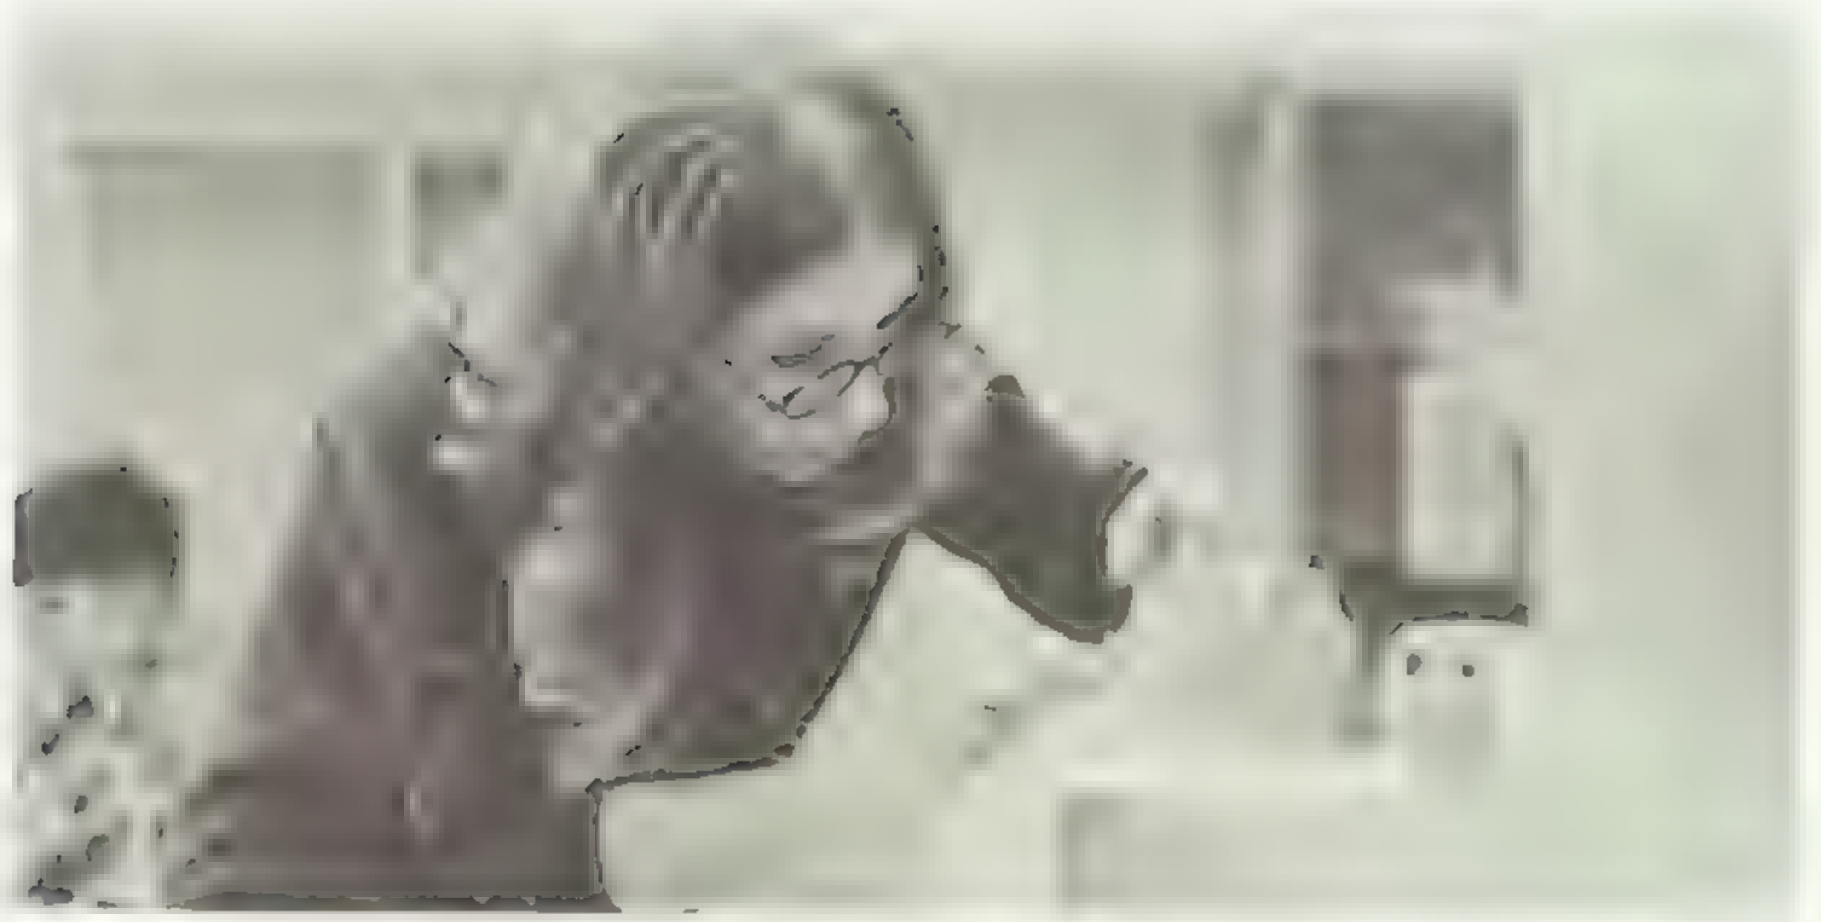

Disciplined Creativity--Tomorrow's Productivity

Precise measurements must be obtained, precise blueprints must be drawn, precise shapes must be formed—these are the building blocks for personal satisfaction in the field of industrial arts. First the basic background information, then the application—the supplementary materials, the tools, and then the final challenge of creating. This training, this learning is pre-requisite for future artisans and technicians for the development of knowledge, of talent, and opportunity in today's industries.

Skills basic to man's existence; yards of shapeless fabric draped to create something of graceful practicality, raw staples transformed into a gourmet's delight, the technicalities of an adult world understood and faced beforehand—these are the realistic problems encountered in home economics. Through cooking and sewing the individual personality is reflected, the desired effect is achieved. Able to maintain a secure future—this is the outcome of the valuable experience acquired through home economics.

Search For Expression

The grating sound of scraped styrofoam, a figure emerges, first shape, then detail. Apprehensive eyes watch the figure slowly smothered in sand. Molten metal burning and smoking - time drags on, then miraculously a new object emerges from the sand. It is solid, with an inner strength and meaning. A film, a discussion, then a lucidity of brush and paint flying adventurously in search of expression and technique. Music slowly dissolves as an assignment transforms from a pressing requirement into something much more important to the individual. Art - always an action of eye, mind, and hand united in communication.

The Greek Ideal

Straining for that all important leap, exerting everything into a final, desperate play, taking advantage of newly acquired skill and flexibility to overcome physical limitations — this is the Greek ideal of a healthy body and mind, molded together through the realm of physical achievement. Wilson's physical education program received additional benefits this year through the modular system. Splitting classes achieved more time for individual attention and enabled a more diverse range of activities—more chance for the individual to excel.

Clatter Of Practicality

Laughter cascades through a slightly opened door as students experiment and practice sales techniques on one another. Taut fingers attack a set of keys—and the mind translates words into symbols. Continued use of specialized equipment forms a base for diversity of skills and enhances individual experience—achieves an aura of confidence. Practicality here does not suggest boring principles—it relates sensible preparation for the future to the real business world.

Like Musicians

Dreamy, rich, vibrant, bold—music for the soul. Strings creating a mood of tranquility; bass, woodwinds, and brass vibrating with a deep, pulsing rhythm. Music is another expression of the individual. An expression of a thousand faces, a thousand different impressions—a gayly uniformed, highstepping parade band, the throaty strains of a jazz stage band, the classical beauty of a string ensemble, a beginning band still searching for intonation. The notes on the page are only directions. The mood, the expression, the perfection belong to the individual, the orchestra, and the music.

I'll never forget him and some of those goofy tests, will you? Maybe we can get in Social Studies together next year. I think it's the only class we are both going to be taking. Be good and have fun this summer. I may see you up at Custer Park sometime because I plan on being there a lot. Bye,

Music--A Thousand Faces

"Boy, you can tell it's Monday!" "NNN How many feel it buzz?" "Sing it to me Please don't yell; come on people, again. Like musicians" "Look, we've got a concert in nine days, will you watch here please?" The Wilson choirs—one voice, a blend of individual talent—musicians. The vocalists combined traditional excellence and works ranging from the baroque and the modern periods and performed for Wilson audiences as well as students from the University of Oregon. Tense faces, strains of a mood—the choral department again expounded upon a talent for the art.

Veridian 1967 - 1968

There is no vision farther away than beauty, deeper than truth, more profound than a near perfect representation of life. It is for this vision that the 1968 Veridan strived. Over two hundred students submitted essays, drawings, poems, and photographs to the creative effort. Drawing from these contributions, the Veridan staff published a magazine; a focal point of inspiration. Behind the scenery of pickle and fortune cookie sales, paying for a large part of the price of publication, in the drawings, photographs, and words which framed this year's Veridan, lies the design of thought, the diagram of drawing. A small expression of a mastery yet to come.

Exploration of a Medium

Transcending concrete realities to the elusive concept of electrical force — Wilson's CC/T.V. — expanded — enriching education. Speech students evaluating playbacks of own performances; simultaneously transmitting and taping relevant specials, prepared lectures, remarks of guest speakers. Conducting standardized tests for juniors, informing seniors in reg. about announcements of the day; the typical CC/T.V. antics — understanding the equipment, dedication to all aspects of mechanical perfection.

Statesman 1967 - 1968

To lead the unguided, to guide the misled, to comfort the afflicted, to afflict the comforted, finally to project and mirror a school — these are the duties with which the Statesman is charged. Every two weeks in a fury of frantic activity, Wilson's newspaper staff begins again to search for the answers and to describe on paper the conditions of student life. An interview, an exclusive interview with a highly motivated student body is the paper in its final stage, in the hands of a student.

Scholastic Revision Initiated

The National Honor Society functioned according to its tradition of scholastic excellence, acclaiming educational achievement. N.H.S. members debated the proposed change in the qualifications for admission; to lower the grade point standards and raise the school and community service requirements. Before initiating this change, scholars had the opportunity to reflect on the purpose and role of N.H.S. at Wilson. Striving for an interested membership, the N.H.S. also organized two inter-scholastic dances and a spring banquet honoring senior members.

Forensians Attain

Garnishing no less than a second place berth at each city forensic meet, the proficient Wilson Forensians assembled a strong team despite the late start. Debate teams also showed their prowess as the year progressed. The year's activities included a winter banquet and a spring motor boat ride and island barbecue. The Forensians displayed their many ribbons and trophies in a main-hall showcase, attaining well deserved recognition.

The Endeavor For Excellence

The standards established, Quill and Scroll recognized the high school journalists attaining the excellence, originality, and creativity that is good journalism. The honorary created a competitive spirit by exchanging newspapers and yearbooks with schools throughout the northwest. A display of former publications stimulated student body interest in the many and varied fields of journalism. By striving for the goals of Quill and Scroll, members strengthened the student publications of Wilson.

Mu Alpha Theta, an honorary club of superior math students, initiated a math seminar for enrichment, and practice for the national Actuary examinations. The mathematicians also sponsored the annual Math Fair for elementary school children. However, honored guest speakers and a dance with the Lake Oswego Mu Alpha Theta organization proved to be highlights of the year.

The Game Of Kingdoms

The game that decides the fate of kingdoms finds enthusiastic pursuers at Wilson. In the two major games of the year, the Chess Club attained a one-win one-loss record, losing to Tektronics but emerging victorious over Cleveland. Dues collected this year bought chessboards for the club. Doubling in size since last year, the Chess Club gained membership for participation in the excitement of this challenging, mathematical game.

The Key Club, affiliated with the Kiwanis Club, demonstrated itself as one of the most active clubs at Wilson, accomplishing four major projects. The members of the Key Club worked as busboys at Wilson's annual Smorgathon. They also entered a car in the Merrykhana parade during the Rose Festival. Packing shave kits for the Salvation Army and adopting a needy family during the Christmas season were the final Key Club service projects rendered for a grateful community.

Man's Victory With Sports

Acting as an honorary for outstanding athletic achievement, the Men of Troy binds together the most powerful and the most agile, combining the different team unities into one. The Men of Troy donated $125.00 to the universal gym encouraging physical perfection through exercise. They initiated an all-city Letterman's Council and operated as hosts and waiters for the Father-Daughter Banquet. Looking towards the future, the Men of Troy also laid the groundwork for the selling of Wilson decals in Hillsdale stores next year.

The Englishman's Sport

Undaunted by inclement weather and powerful opponents Wilson's fearless Soccer squad played a ten game series to a hard fought 7-1-2 record. Team success hinged on a powerful defense and a series of fast-break scoring plays. The Wilson defense was keyed by Goalie Dennis Reese, while Rob Jenkinson was the leading scorer. Excellent team play and dedication made the Wilson soccer men almost invincible.

Political Happenings

An interest club concerned with the analysis of modern political happenings, the International Relations League this year dealt primarily with the topic "Human Rights." Wilson's I.R.L. had numerous speakers and provoking discussions to broaden their knowledge in this area. Employing the insight gained, several members representing Wilson attended the annual state conference held in Eugene. The I.R.L. also participated in the model United Nations sponsored by Lewis and Clark College, masquerading as Red China. I.R.L. established itself as a vital force at Wilson, demonstrating the depth of student concern.

Chicken Tarragon And French Rock 'n Roll

An interest club bound by a common familiarity of the French language, the French Club members sought an inside view of the living culture. A joint party with Washington High School's French Club, a discussion with an A.F.S. student from France, and Mr. Bruce Taggart's culinary experiment highlighted the year's activities. Listening to modern French record hits and learning different aspects of French civilization supplemented class studies. French was often the only language spoken at the meetings, producing trying and often exasperating, but ultimately rewarding results.

Life Club Seeks Answers

Providing an insight into the balanced Christian life, the Campus Life Club sought to answer problems of youth through guest speakers and group discussions. Socially active, barefoot, pigtailed members attended a city wide Sadie Hawkins dance, and later joined with other Life clubs to choose a Valentine Court to represent Portland at Youth Rallies in the Northwest. The group also visited local crippled childrens' homes and closed the years' events with a banquet honoring the seniors.

Orient Spells Fascination, Interest

A fascination of the Orient, concern for foreign friendships, the growing understanding of an unfamiliar culture; these are the goals of the newly formed Sapporo Interest Club. Guest speakers featured at meetings included a Japanese Olympic Ski champion, a grade school student of Japanese descent, and a college student who spent several months in home-stays in Japan. Anxiously awaited-for letters from Wilson's sister school, Sapporo High School were answered and maps, newspapers, and yearbooks were exchanged—establishing communication across the seas.

Theatre Bugs Devote Time

Thespians, combining the music departments and dramatics, presented the annual Christmas assembly. Centering around striking stage settings, the program followed a young soldier in Vietnam and his memories of past holiday seasons. Club members devoted hours and talent to the production of "My Fair Lady," designing sets, costumes, and make-up. A car wash later in the year boosted Thespian funds and helped the dramatists finance a spring play.

Planetarium Opening Highlights Scientists

The word "excellence" has become a standard for members of Sci-Ex, the national science honorary. Entrance requirements are difficult, but competition is a sign of a winner. Individual experimentation, seminars, symposiums, and OMSI or Oregon Medical School affiliated research are paramount interests to students. This year's traditional events shared the spotlight with the dedication of OMSI's Kendall planetarium. Because of Wilson's contribution of one thousand dollars, Sci-Ex officers experienced the honor of being the only invited students for the spectacular opening.

Shapely Charmers Wilson Tradition

Bring on the Trojaness! The traditional clamor echoed through the halls of Wilson, Portland State College, television studios, and the Memorial Coliseum as the 1967-1968 Trojaness dazzled audiences with precision and enthusiasm. Coached by Miss Ann Peery this year, the Trojaness performed at assemblies and during halftime at football and basketball games. Despite the mud and rain, the Trojaness exhibited talent in their adaptability; student choreographed dance themes encompassed Latin American calypsos, the Roaring Twenties, and uniformed Toy Soldiers. Last minute adjustments, wait, smile; the thrill and pride of belonging is evident in the dance.

Pep Club Exemplifies Spirit

Sparked with initiative, organization, and overwhelming spirit, the 1967-1968 Pep Club flocked to football and basketball games, backing the Trojans with smiles and cheers. Their enthusiasm was contagious. Freshman games were encouraged by self-appointed Pep Club rally squads. Functioning as a service club, the freshmen served as hostesses at the Region III Conference and sponsored the spring "Cotton 'n Cord" dance. Creating and maintaining vigorous support through the sheer power of their ardor, the Pep Club became an essential element of spirit.

MEN OF MUD BATTLE STICKY SEASON

Football players encased in sludge dominated the field and a major part of the 1967 season. Mud bowls at Madison and Roosevelt made it impossible to read the numbered jerseys, while rain and cold marked three other games. Earlier, undaunted by the school levy failure, loyal sports fans raised $200,000 in two summer months to support the 1967 season and all other separate athletic programs in the Portland Interscholastic

League. Wilson made an outstanding start at the revived preseason jamboree against Marshall, but their glory died when they lost their two preseason games to Cleveland and Grant. After starting brilliantly in counting games against Jackson and Lincoln, Trojan title hopes perished after losing to Roosevelt by one point, tying Jefferson 0-0, and fighting the remainder of the season to post a 2-5-1 record

OFFENSIVE UNIT

Wilson's offensive unit, which had a dynamic start setting the pace at the jamboree, slowly slipped into an erratic roll as weather set in. Bolstering the all important offensive line, first team All-State center, Jim Musser, opened holes and protected the passer with assistance from All-City selection Jeff Kirsch, and Dick Pearce. Junior Co-Captain, Jack Brown, third in the city in total offense, spearheaded the always-keep-them-guessing passing attack with help from his versatile co-captain Scott Park; while All-City backs Jim Briggs and Steve Peterson battered their way through seventy-percent of the Wilson rushing yardage. It was a unit with potential that with a few breaks would have taken the Trojans a long way.

DEFENSIVE UNIT

Wilson's spirited defensive squad displayed unity and fight even in a losing situation. The unit had trouble stopping the crucial play, but in the Jefferson game they maintained a great defensive effort by holding the Democrats explosive offense to short yardage and no points. The game ended in a 0-0 deadlock, crushing Wilson's drive for the city championship. Most Valuable Player, Jim Musser, and Most Inspirational Player, Jeff Digangi, kept the unit's spirit up throughout the season, as the defensive squad, one of the heaviest in the city, maintained a strong interior line. The pursuing combination of Frank Bowlby, a 275-pound All-State tackle, and Scott Butterfield, named Animal of the Year, accounted for numerous key tackles and fumble recoveries.

Blasting off the season the Wilson TroyVees romped to a 33-0 victory over Cleveland, with Most Valuable Player Dick Eichenberger breezing downfield for three touchdowns. A week later in a gruesome battle with Grant, the Wilson TroyVees emerged the losers by only one touchdown. On the road to revenge, the spirited unit downed the neighboring Jackson Raiders 12-6, but due to mid-season injuries to five starting players, the TroyVees were hampered in their remaining games. Tom Kauffman performed consistently, receiving 23 passes from quarterbacks Wally Ogburn and Paul Berg; while Dick Eichenberger and Walter Jones led the offensive unit to a respectable 2-5-0 season. The record was no indication of the team's efforts, as in the Madison and Jefferson games, the TroyVee offense led in total statistics, although they faltered on the scoreboard. Reviewing the J.V. accomplishments, Coach Tom Ogan commented, "We played an inspiring season."

The Wilson Wet Set

Clad in plaid bermuda shorts, jaunty pleats, and usually raincoats and hats, the Fall Varsity Rally splashed spirit over the entire Wilson student body during a rainy and often disheartening football season. By reorganizing the Pep Club, the Rally obtained a nucleus of spirit for a united student body, while assemblies and posters urged students to see their team in action. The rally squad also worked this summer selling buttons to save the Portland Interscholastic League. As the season progressed they enlivened, delighted, heartened, and consoled the Trojan Warriors.

Rainy weather and a poor running surface demanded a strong effort from the Wilson Cross Country team. The Wilson swim sharks made it six titles in a row when they gnawed their way past Grant to the city championship. Victory at the Grant meet came only after a 1/10 second win in the final event. SPLASHERS AVOID DUNKING, SWEEP CITY

Under new coach, Miss Anne Peery, the Wilson Girls' Swim Team captured their traditional first place crown in the Portland Interscholastic League by defeating all eleven competing teams and finishing first in the city meet. At the state meet, Wilson's water maidens rallied to a fifth place position with leading swimmers, Linda Fairchild and Marjorie Meek, taking first and second places, respectively. Competitive girls' diving was introduced at Wilson this year under the direction of former girls' coach, Frank O'Neil. With only five weeks experience and a limited number of meets within the city, Linda Carrier, Christy Galen, and Kathy Walsh qualified for the state meet and captured three final positions.

BASKETBALL 1968

An entire being strained, stretched - in a gruelling effort to consistently propel a ball through a rim - to pace, to persist, to endure. Subjugating all emotions, all physical fatigue, the individual must substitute tension for exhaustion, revealing innate energy, striving through sheer will power alone.

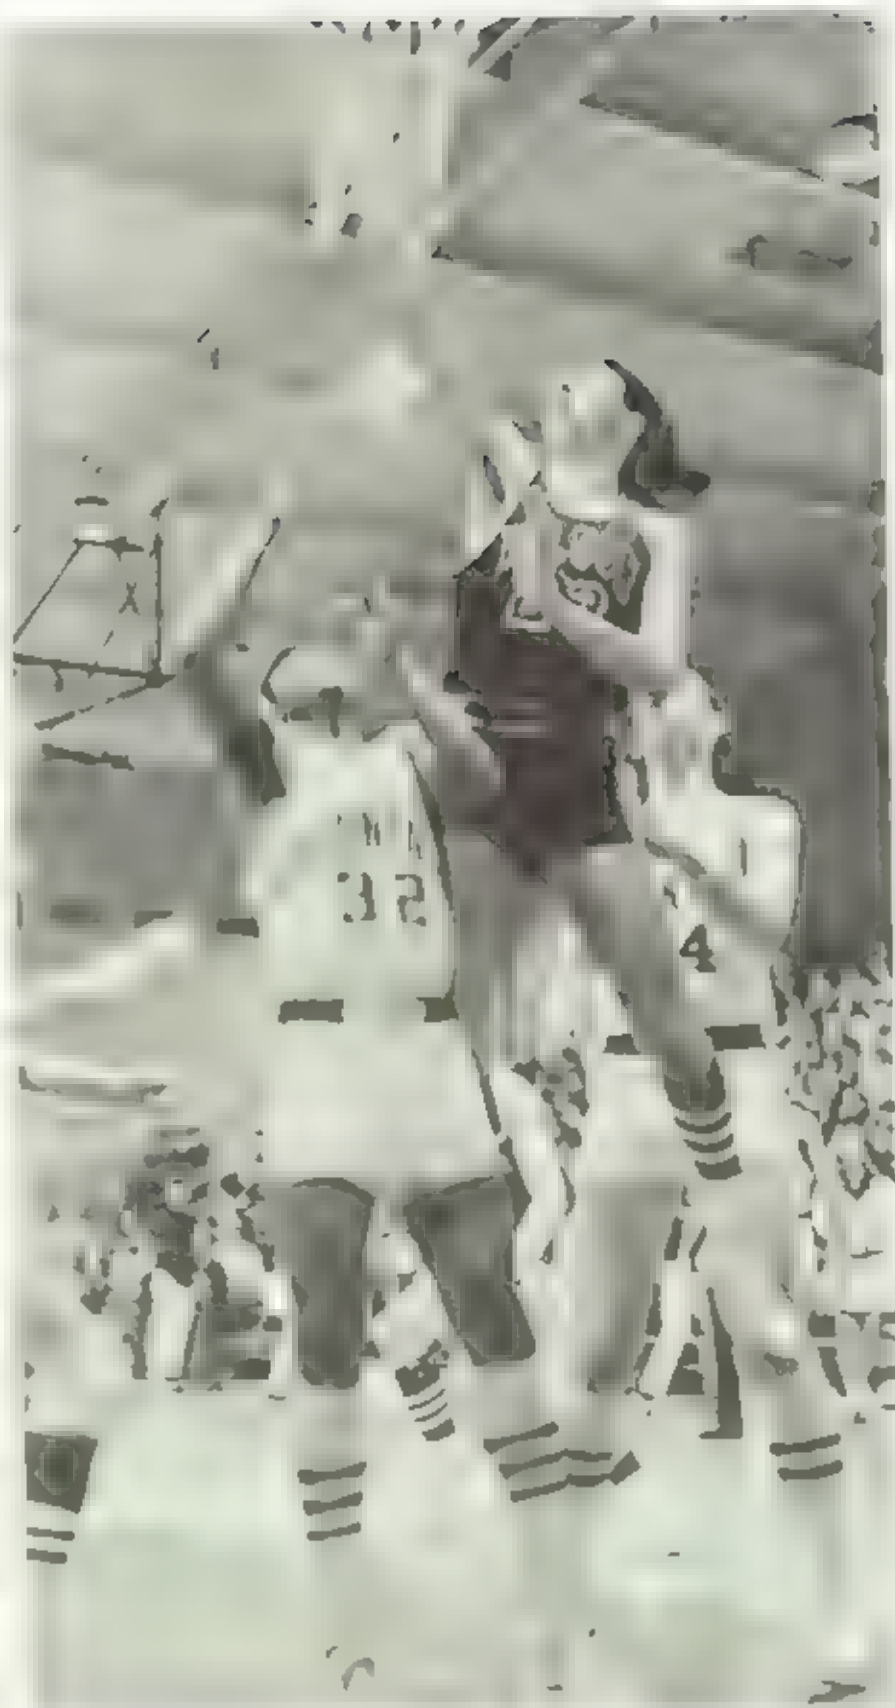

Battle For Berth Trojans' End

A lack of refined talent hindered Wilson early in the season, and it took eighteen games to uncover their vast resources of ability. Problems in the fourth quarter led to three losses in a tough pre-season schedule. The Trojans major asset was balance; they could stay within reach of any team, irregardless of its superiority.

"Bamboozled" in their first division contest by league titlist Jefferson, Wilson recovered to squeak through a tight Jackson game and scored a vital win over Madison. A definite spirit developed as the Trojan defense jelled and Wilson defeated the rest of their Red Division opponents. The Varsity roundballers slumped in cross-division, and after a demoralizing one point defeat at Benson, the Trojans lost all momentum, winning only one "Green" game. Down in the standings, Wilson, in a must-win situation, executed a repeat of the first half of division play, and captured a playoff spot vying for a berth to the State Tournament.

Since a crucial win over Madison, the Trojans had matured into a ballclub with discipline, shooting, rebounding, and defense, all attaining their proper position. Most Valuable Player, and Team Captain Scott Park performed as backcourt genius, and John Knope developed into the playmaker. Top scorer and rebounder, Jon Huggins had improved at high post, while Don Jensen, Tom Inglesby, The Most Improved Player Ron Sluyter, and The Best Defensive Player Brian Hollander all flourished as dependable forwards.

A determined Wilson team surprised the coliseum crowd and revenged an earlier loss as they displayed unequalled finesse in the fourth quarter, and downed a powerful Grant team by fourteen points. The following night, an obviously inspired Wilson squad kept even with Washington for seven-eighths of the deciding game. Applauded as the most improved unit in the Portland Interscholastic League, Coach George Crandall's team settled for a commendable third place, and a thirteen win, eleven loss record.

Persistent TroyVees Rewarded

"I feel we'll have a good season; the players have a lot of hustle and desire," commented Coach Ernie Hohman of the then upcoming J.V. Basketball season. The TroyVees, possessing these essentials, fulfilled their coach's prediction. Coach Hohman piloted his squad to a 8-8 record in city league competition and an overall mark of 11-11, a respectable .500 average. Paced by a strong nucleus of players, Team Captain Jack Brown and Most Valuable Player Tim Wind also displayed aggressive boardwork and deadly set shots. An unusual asset to the squad was freshman John Fort. Improving consistently as the season progressed, the team jelled into a unit with the overwhelming determination to win, evidenced at the final Wilson-Jackson encounter. This desire persisted, and the TroyVees went on to win their last four games by considerable margins. It was a fine ending to a rewarding season.

Backboard brutality keynoted the frosh season, as the TroBabes outmuscled their opponents to an eight and five record. Beating their foes on the rebounds Jim Bailey, Wade Middleton, and Paul Labby put in points from underneath and fed out to Tom Pezel, Steve Fazzoleri, and Dan Grimberg for the outside shots. Three-fourths of the way through the season their high scorer, John Fort, was switched to the Junior Varsity squad, leaving the Frosh void of a floor-court leader. They regrouped to beat Franklin, only to falter and lose their next three games, not compiling another win until their last game of the season. Coach Ray Nairn felt this Freshman team was the best in several years, and the Frosh courtmen confirmed the statement with an eighty-eight point effort against Washington.

Wearisome Season Ends Triumphantly

Owning the Portland Interscholastic League's Most Outstanding wrestler, Frank Bowlby, the Trojan matmen compiled a 5-5-1 season standing, securing fourth place in the league. Coach Al Gray's wrestlers, led by Scott Butterfield, Jack Smith, Dick Campbell, and Ron Castles, defeated such wrestling powers as Lincoln and Washington. A series of injuries at the end of the season weakened the Trojan attack, but nevertheless, the team was at full strength in the city meet, where they sent three grapplers into the championship finals. At the state meet in Corvallis, the squad placed seventh against other contenders with Jeff Johnston taking the state crown in the 168 pound class.

Aggressiveness Essential In J.V. Conquests

Heeding the words of wisdom bequeathed by varsity grapplers, the J.V. wrestlers realized the key to success is found through aggressive hard work and determination. Developing the necessary conditioning, the team ended the season with a meritorious 7-4 record. The grapplers commenced the season by defeating arch enemy Jackson High and finished with an impressive 65-0 showing against Jefferson, due to default. Elected team captain, Keith Peters inspired the hustlers toward their best efforts. Greg Howell, most valuable player, and Mark Wilson were the top point getters for Coach Stan Stanton's squad. With the admirable showing made by this year's Junior Varsity team, favorable future varsity outlooks seem likely.

Injuries Fail To Daunt Matmen

A lack of manpower proved to be the Freshman Wrestling team's stumbling block throughout the season. Forfeits in the heavy-weight classes caused the grapplers to suffer disheartening defeats to such squads as Jackson and Washington. Spurred on by the successful efforts of Bruce Butterfield and Mark DiGangi, Coach Tom Ogan's matmen posted a 3-5 mark in Portland Interscholastic League competition. Convincing victories over Lincoln and Jefferson brought an apparently discouraging season to a triumphant close in spite of a fourth place finish in the Benson Invitational Freshman Wrestling Tournament.

Gymnasts Garner Second Place

Starting the season with a young and relatively inexperienced team, as well as a new coach, the Wilson Gymnastics team competed with a come-from-behind determination. Capitalizing on the fine individual efforts of John Purdy in floor exercises, Steve Cramer on the high bar, Tim Thompson on the side horse, and John Shuberg on the parallel bars, Wilson had a fine finish in dual meets and went on to take second place in the city meet. The eight returning lettermen will provide a strong base for the next year's squad.

Early Weaknesses Infect Cindermen

Toppled by Jackson in the first meet of the season, the Wilson Varsity Track team had barely recovered from the onslaught before they were dumped by a surprisingly strong Roosevelt squad the next week. Weaknesses in most of the running events deterred the Trojans from victory in their opening clashes. Compensating for the poor showing of runners was a strong field event squad led by Frank Bowlby in the shot put and Steve Peterson in the javelin. According to Coach Gordon Makinster the cindermen should reach their full potential by the third meet against Benson and continue improvement throughout the remainder of the season.

TroyVee's Promote Promising Prospects

After their first two league encounters, the Junior Varsity Track team remained undefeated. High point man Jim Russell and hurdler Terry Peterson paved the way for the TroyVee's season-opener thrashing of Jackson, followed with a similar outburst against Roosevelt. Although it was early in the season, Coach Gordon Makinster described the spikemen as better than most. Fielding a strong running squad, the J.V.'s should fair well in league competition.

TroyBabes Show Signs Of Promise

Sucumbing to Jackson by three points in their first meet, the Freshmen Track team bounced back the next week and trounced Roosevelt opponents. Although small in size this year, the Frosh squad is well balanced and promising. Led by Dale Schaller and Rod Leupp, the cindermen should finish high in the Portland Interscholastic League standings.

Troy's Hitters Must Be Holdouts

Hopes hinged on defense when play began in 1968 pre-season Varsity Baseball. Trojan infielders Jim Musser, Randy Lachenmeier, and Scott Butterfield, distinguished as possessing fine gloves, functioned as the backbone of the team. Initially inexperienced, the pitching squad was a weighty factor in Wilson's four pre-season victories. With improved batting and a combined team effort, the Varsity team can produce an outstanding record this season.

Balanced Squad J.V. Strongpoint

Untested except for a 16-2 pre-season victory, the Junior Varsity Baseball team awaits its first challenge. They possess a good defense and balanced pitching, but hitting could be a sore point, primarily due to poor weather conditions which have hampered batting practice. Terry Knapp and Ed Kamish should boost the infield while promising pitchers Eric Pearson and Jim Mosley will round out the improving first team lineup. Coach George Crandall estimates that "Before the season is over, the Wilson J.V.'s should prove to be a very worthy team."

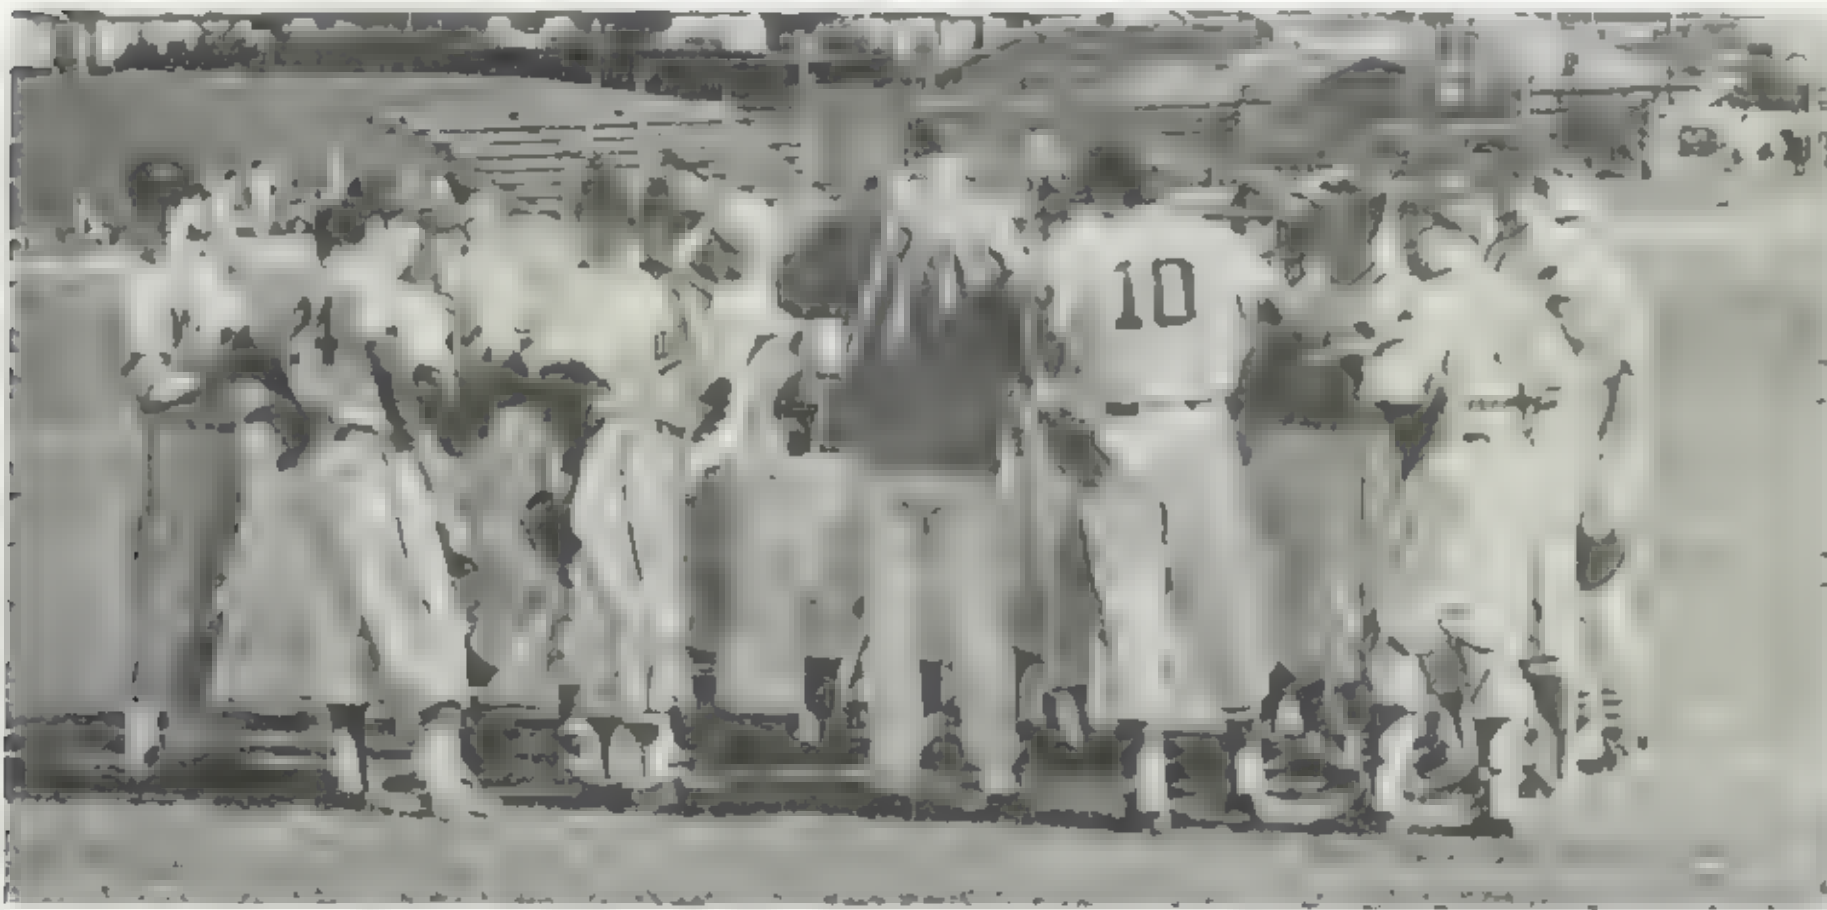

Eric Pearson winds up for a fast one.

Troybabes Sparkle in New Uniforms

As rainy weather swamped the fields, the freshmen baseball team was forced to practice in the gym. Early every morning practice continued, with a tight unit of about twenty players. Jon Fort was the first frosh member moved up for Junior Varsity play. Dan Grimberg and Steve Fazzolari looked promising as pitchers; although Bruce Butterfield was injured, Rob Brown was able to fill in as catcher. For the first time, the Troy-Babes were blessed with complete uniforms. Coach Ernie Hohman foresees some fine Junior Varsity and Varsity squads in the near future as some of this years fine frosh performers graduate into these higher levels of competition.

Coach Ernie Hohman, briefs batmen on upcoming encounter.

Falling Water Worst Hazard

The water hazard traditionally coming from the clouds blitzed the course as Trojan stalwarts Jan Torheim, Carolyn Tripp sloshed over soggy fairways. Illness has hurt the club's chance, but the team members are still optimistic and claim that they are an improving team. Madison and Grant should give these damp damsels their roughest competition, but coach Frank O'Neil predicts they will win eight of their ten Portland interscholastic League matches.

Strengthened by four returning lettermen, a viable nucleus was formed, indicating a winning team. Rick Kaufman, Steve Pearson, Peter Sundt, and Howard Abrams, having proven their ability in pre-season activity, are excellent prospects for the remaining games. After marking up strong wins against Centennial, Beaverton, and Sunset, the Wilson Boy's Varsity Golf team looks forward to a high finish in the Portland Interscholastic League.

Racketeers Continue Proud Tradition

"We will certainly finish first or second in city and hope to send four players to the state meet," commented racketeer Laurie King. The Girls' Tennis team is top-ranked again this year; state champion Mary Cruickshank and the doubles team of Holly Dirker and Carol Lundblade should defeat all opponents and bring honors to the girls' team.

Champions Promise Honors

Wilson's Boys' Tennis team continued their winning tradition with another powerful squad; in early matches of the season, Wilson netmen crushed opponents from Grant, Marshall, Cleveland, and Benson. With such players as Dave Kelly, John Lundblade, Benson Liu, and previous state champion, Randy King, the team should bring another city championship to Wilson and place high in the state tournament.

The Answer Is In The Wind!

Anyone can see what the wind does to the trees, but it's going out and feeling the wind that really makes you alive... What do I mean by alive? I mean connected to and concerned with the political and social happenings. You must set a goal, you must lead and yet not be a leader. You must be a participant; you must be involved. During my term of office, the executive board worked toward this state of activity and tried to accomplish this through change. Our greatest failure was that we overlooked the importance of unity - change must be bound by unity.

Fall Concert-- An Experience In Music

Fall Concert 1967, an experience in music. The sounds of chorus and instruments merge; unity exists through the tones created. Chanting Puccinni's "Masa de Gloria," a combined choir holds the audience in awe; strings, brass, and woodwinds draw the audience to the same inspirational feeling with Brahm's "First Symphony." Highlighted by a gong, "A Picture From The Exhibition--The Great Gate Of Kiev" vibrates with strength and magnificence. The concert combines the jubilant, the reverent, classical grace and beauty, and modern jazz, a blending of talents and individual excellence into a moving performance.

Ye Shall Have Peace

I've found lots of friends—friends from all over the world. It's been a fantastic learning experience because I'm able to take all people for what they are. I've developed not only tolerance, but understanding. I've become more mature by having the opportunity to see things from a different perspective. It's interesting to realize the traditions and goals of another country and to appreciate the foundations on which these are based. Through my experience I've achieved an international understanding, and this is the primary ingredient for peace. As the American Field Service motto states:

"Walk together, talk together, all ye peoples of the earth, for then and only then will ye have peace."

With love,

Inger

A sky of pale blue and white snowflakes, city houses silhouetted against the horizon, trees frosted with snow, and a feeling of Christmas in the air—"Dreaming of a White Christmas," the 1967 Homecoming Semi-Formal. Couples entering the winter wonderland found wrapped packages under a majestic fir tree, and joined the social room fireside for punch and cookies. With radiant smiles, confidence, and poise, the 1966 and 1967 Homecoming Courts ascended the red carpet to Santa's throne. United We Stand

One thing you have to remember is that here we've got the best of everything, but we need to unite—then, together we can have the best Wilson. My goal was to accomplish no more than the students really wanted. I figure if we have two thousand of the great students we don't have to make any excuses; we can explode any problem. As I said, as long as we're united, we can do anything.

It Was A Ball

Welcoming spring with a "Beach Ball", Trojan sun-lovers danced barefoot in the sand. Crowned by the 1967 Sweetheart Queen Betty Wagner, Queen Debbie Schaller and her court of eight sophomore beauties reigned amidst the surfboards and beach scenes. Couples danced to the pulsating rhythm of the Moxie, encountering mermaids, octopi, and other assorted underwater "beasties". Whirling through the Grotto and into a world of sun and beach, all who attended left infected with a bit of spring magic.

1968 Queen, Debbie Schaller receives congratulations from 1967 Sweetheart, Betty Wagner.

Dads Saluted

A once-a-year salute to fathers, the Dad-Daughter banquet 1968 revolved around the theme "Sugar Pops Are Tops." Guest speaker Mr. Dick Novak, radio personality from K.P.O.J., delighted dads and daughters alike with his selection of the vocal lapses and slips occurring over various communication medium. Student performances also highlighted the evening. Jan Pierson and Ann Scott represented respectively the best of the worlds of song and dance, involving for each all of the qualities of talent, poise, and beauty. The fashion show was commentated by senior Thalia Williams and coordinated by the high-board representatives, presenting insights into the vogue of spring. After exchanging tributes of love and praise, all agreed that sugar pops are tops rightened, questioning nothing, and so he had many considered by the two thousand others by the bell and the schedule by the authority of everyone else

Man exposes the pale of his doubts -
Ceding his anguish
to a past action

Man turns his eyes to measure
The structure of his ideas
struggling in valleys.

The structure of his ideas
struggling in valleys.

His being - which conceived Idea -

— — — — —

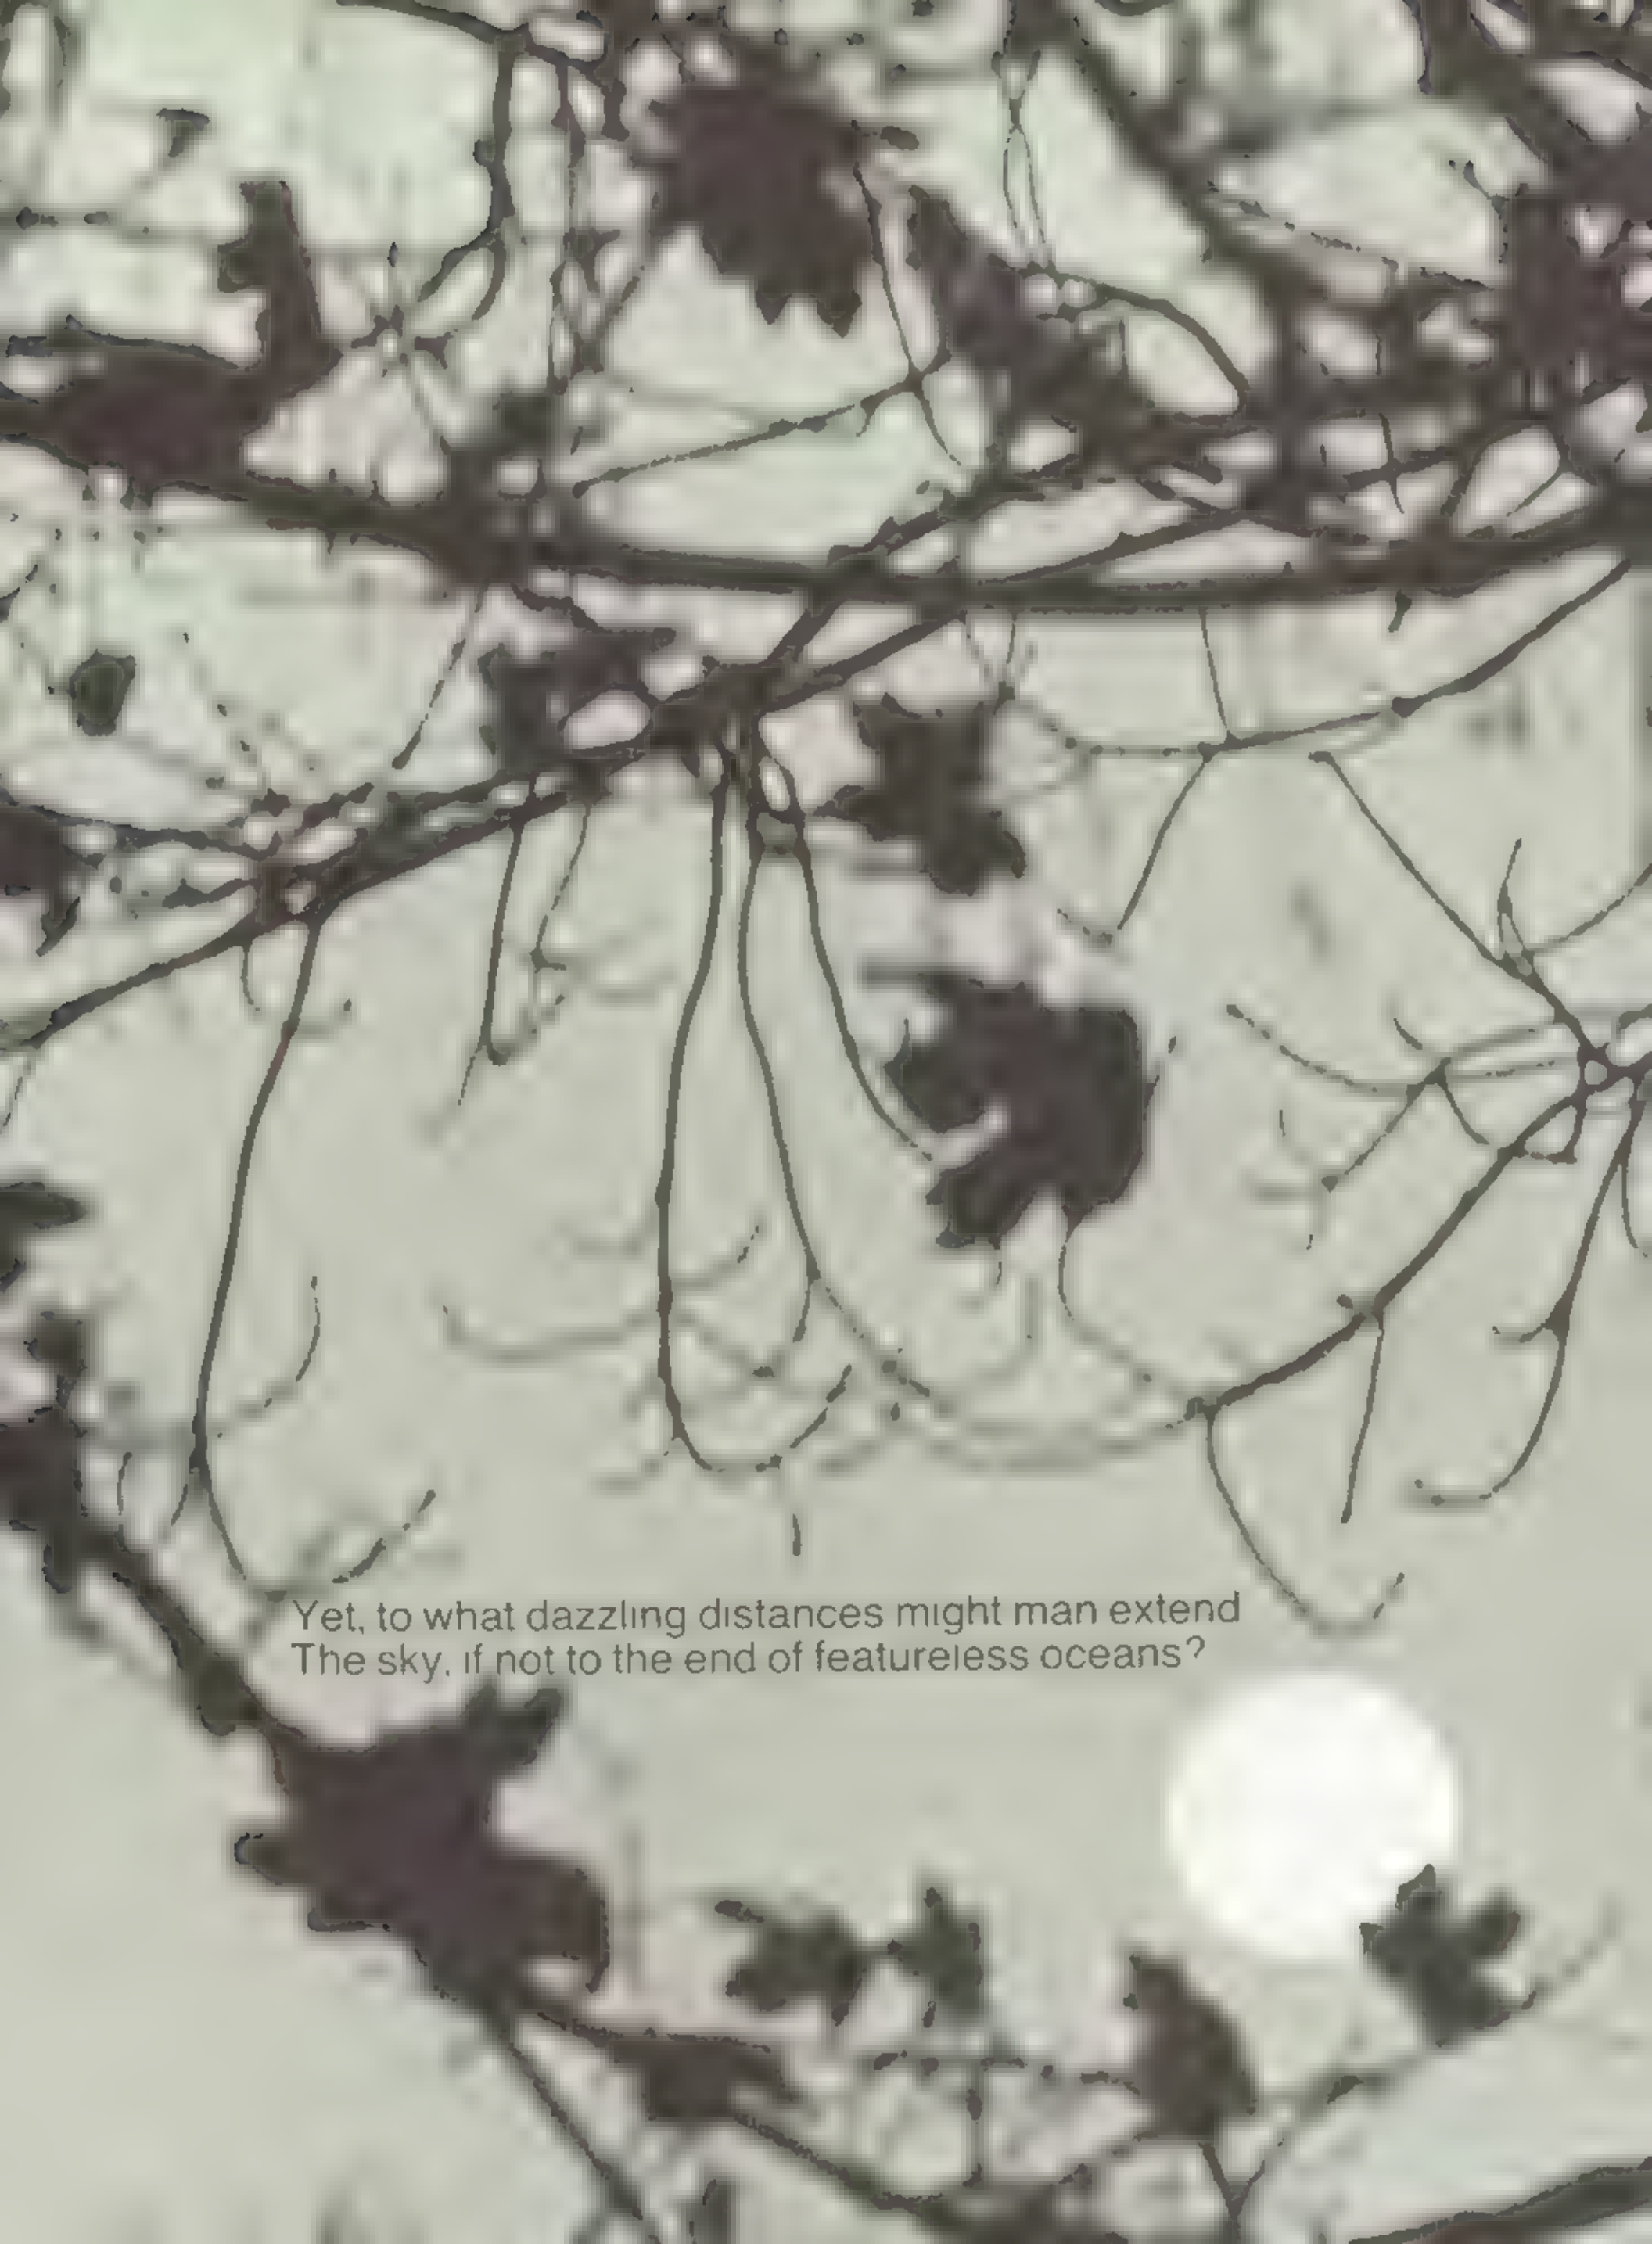

Plays about the planet
A relentless force of double-poled creativity.

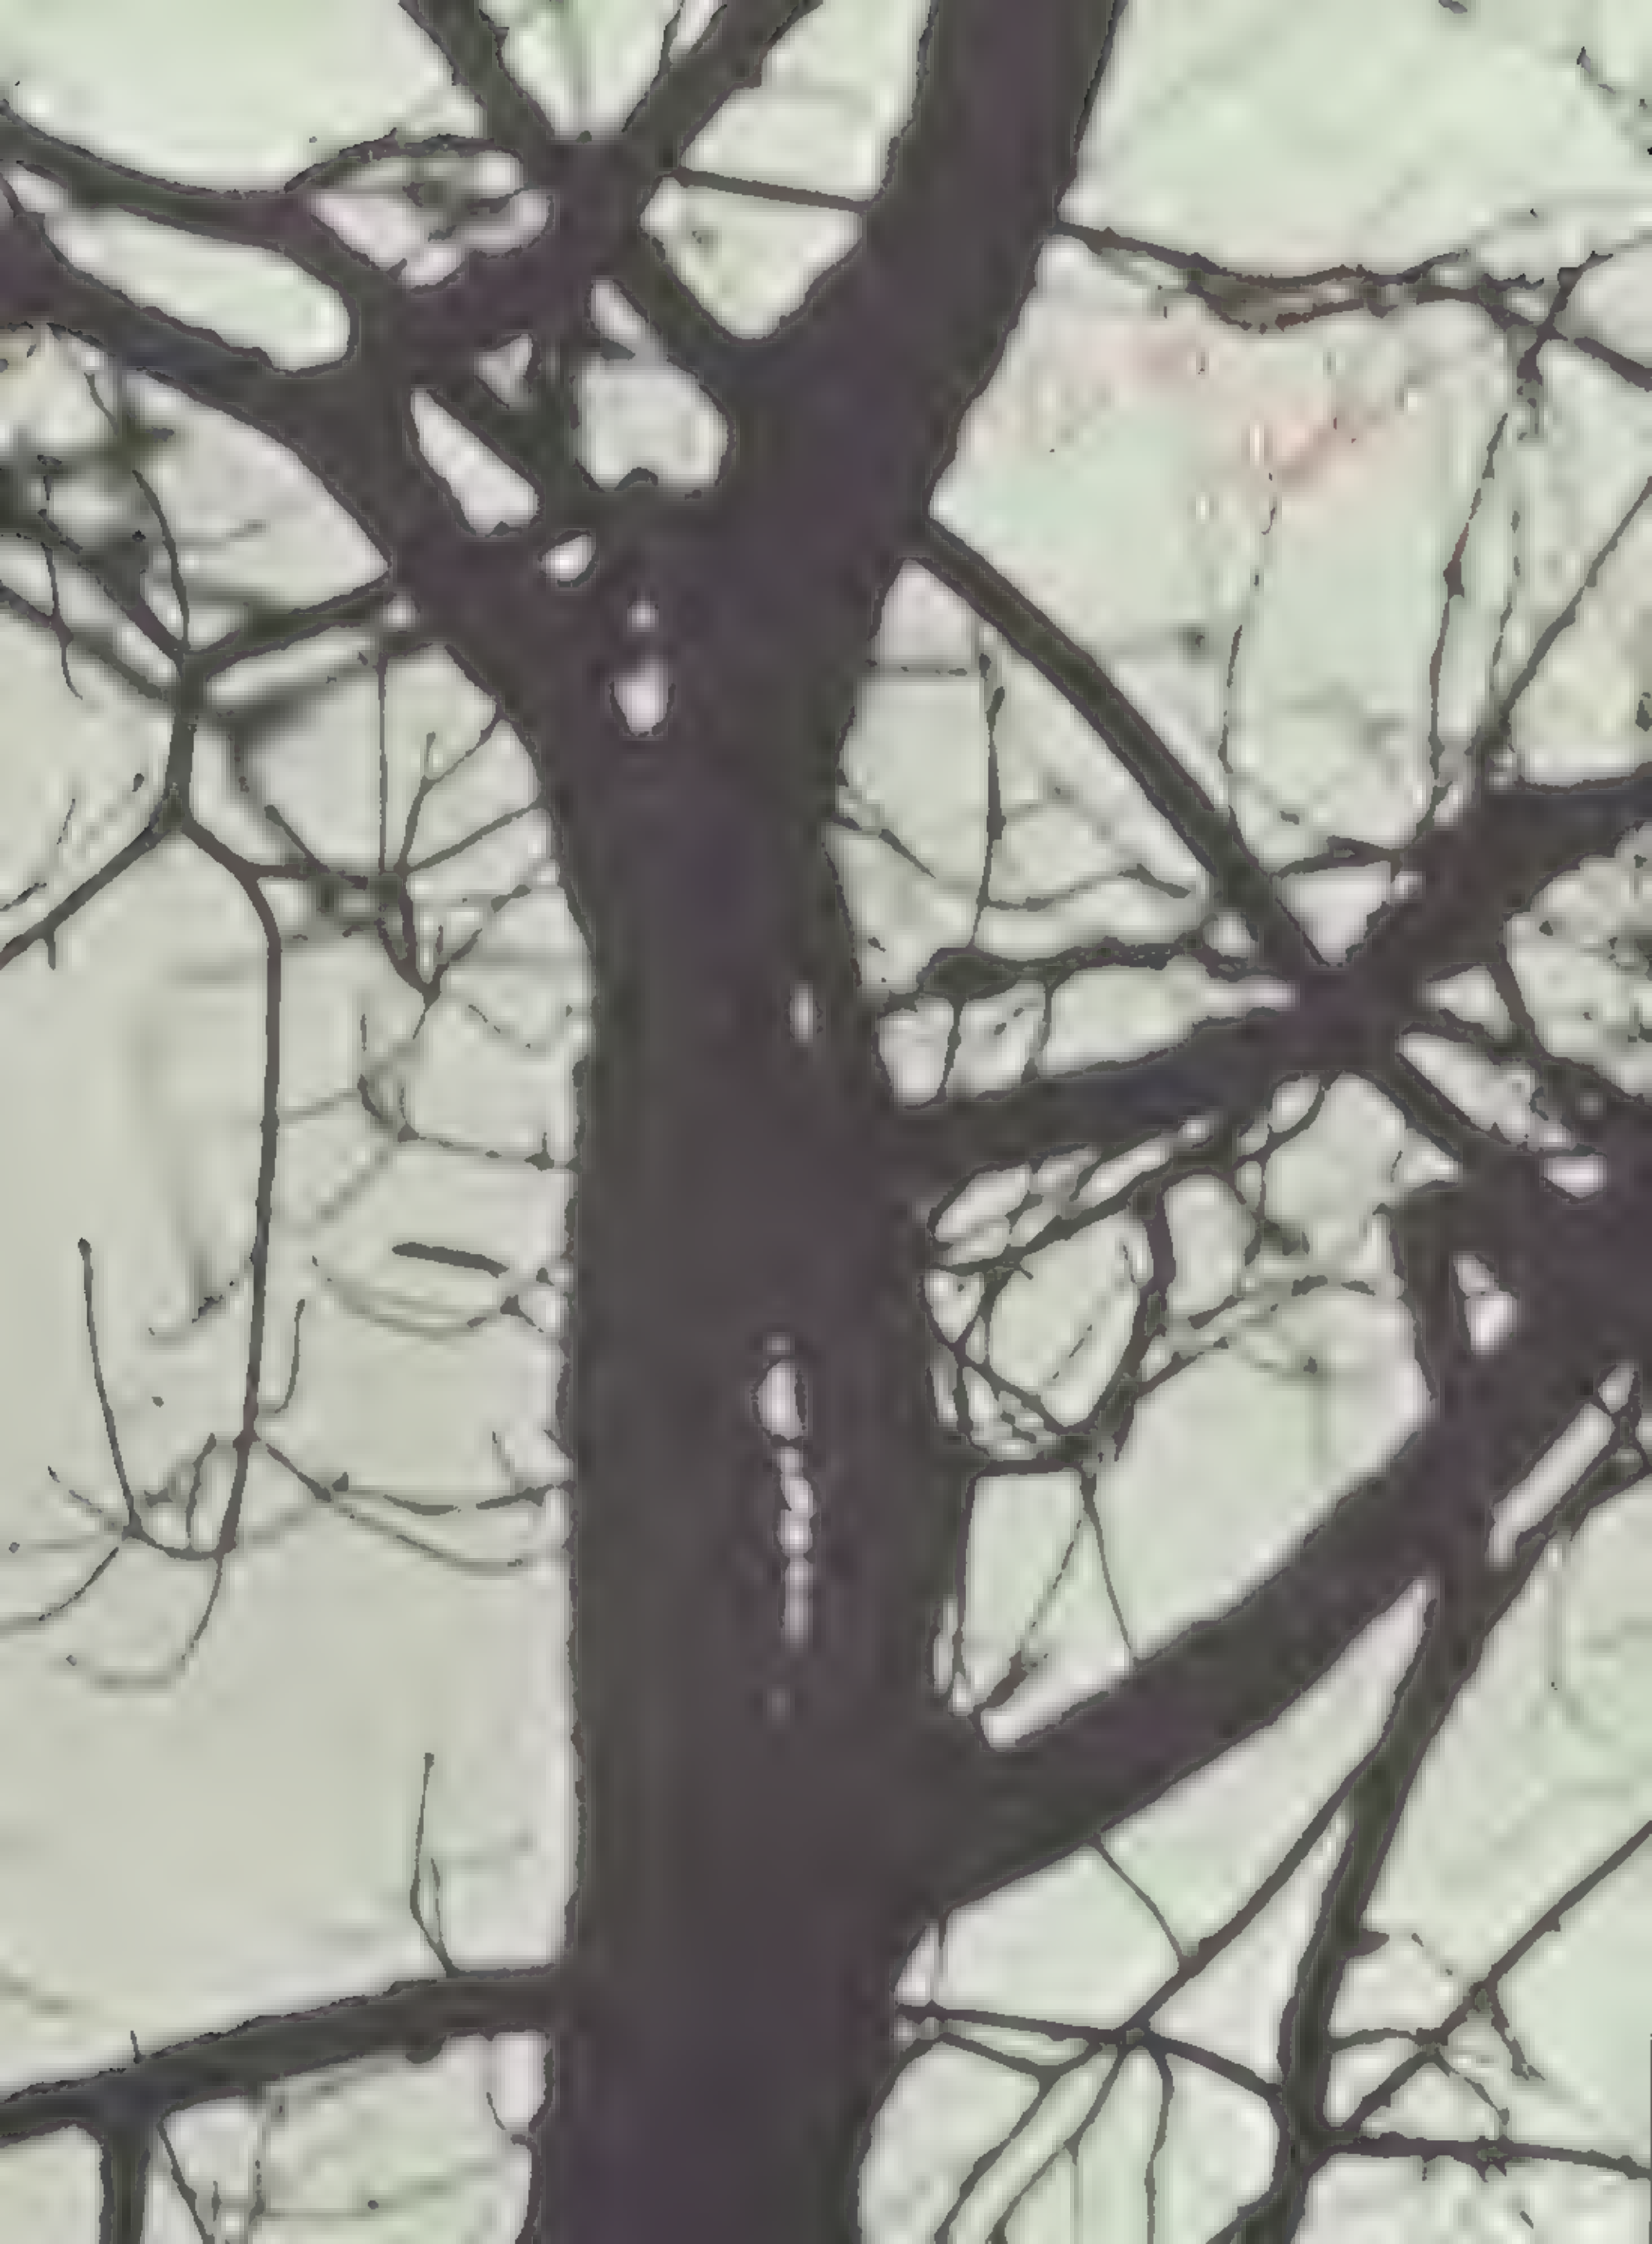

Whether man will prefer despair to love,
Prefer to place fiction in the mount of reality,
Whether he will build understanding
Rather than abstract confusion,
Only undetermined patterns of an impatient future
Will design.

Yet, to what dazzling distances might man extend
The sky, if not to the end of featureless oceans?

The Trojan staff extends its thanks to the cafeteria staff, along with the members of the custodial staff for the many hours of hard work they have put in to make our school the best in the city. We would also like to extend special thanks to Mr. C. Pearson, and Mr. B. Leonard for their performances above and beyond the call of duty.

Lynn, Hi, Its been great sitting in front of you in Biology. Thanks for the helping hand on the tests.

"so it's your turn to be on the yearbook staff?"

"yeah, yeah, yeah!"

You'll have fun creating your yearbook. Capturing the personality of your classmates and school in words, pictures and ink can be an exciting challenge. And we'll wager our favorite glue pot that you are determined to make your yearbook at least as nice or a little nicer than the last one published at your school.

Helping editors and staff members like you organize and create an annual that your school will be proud of is an important part of our business. It is the responsibility of the yearbook specialists on our staff to make your editing assignment as easy as possible and to free you of mechanical tasks so that you will have more time for 'imagineering.'

Complete art direction and layout services are at your disposal. Our typography consultants can help you choose type faces from the largest selection in the Northwest. New, modern printing and bindery facilities, operated by proud, creative craftsmen, are available to transform your thinking into the finest yearbook your school has ever known.

You are always welcome to browse for ideas in the many yearbooks we have produced for other schools and colleges at.

Quit school and
"fail"

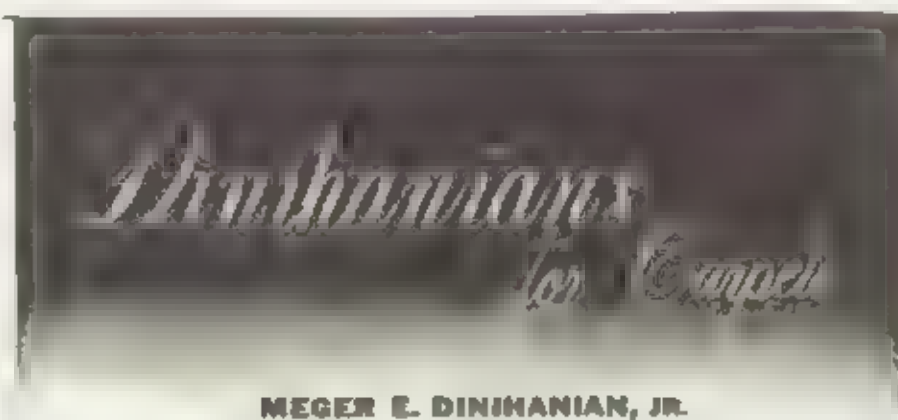

You get no headstart in your career by dropping out of school. Instead, you seriously lessen your chances of success by going to work before you're fully trained, fully prepared. In these highly competitive days, you need all the education you can get. Stay in school "graduate" to a rewarding career.
